

CELESTIAL COBBLING.

PICKED UP IN THE SHOP OF A CHINESE SHOE REPAIRER.

How Sing Lee Repairs Damaged Foot Wear—Serviceable Leather Unknown in China—Interesting Facts About the Shoes of the Mongolians.

Although there are no celestial shoemakers in Boston's little Chinatown, there is one old Celestial who, if he doesn't pretend to be able to manufacture shoes in the advanced state of perfection in which they are made in the land of tea, yet he can repair the sabots with neatness and dispatch, and while he does not make that his sole means of support, he manages to earn $5 or $6 every week by mending the dilapidated shoes of some of his alienated-eyed brethren.

It was for the purpose of finding out something about the curious looking shoes that the writer paid old Sing Lee a visit. His shop is located in the rear of one of the houses of the block on Harrison avenue, between Elmer and Beach streets.

Everything was as dark as pitch in the cellar, which smelled close and damp, while the air was laden with the stale fumes of opium. It brings him every week.

"What you want?" came in a feeble cry from the occupant of the room who was as yet invisible to the intruder, who, nevertheless, shouted, "Ho-le-mah!" which is the Chinese for how do you do! and further added, "I came to see you mend some shoes, Sing."

"Me not mend shoe; you go home," said the old Celestial, who was now seen in the dim light that struggled through the little grating cellar window, sitting on a bunk on which, previous to the interruption, he had evidently been snoring.

It wasn't a very warm reception, but then Chinamen are seldom polite or pleasant to white people who may chance to intrude upon them in their own apartments, that is, unless there is money in it. The writer fully appreciating this fact, made his way to where the old "Chink" was seated, and, putting a quarter into his hand, offering him at the same time a cigar, and mentioning the name of the Chinaman who sent him, proceeded to make himself as comfortable as possible by appropriating a stool that was near.

He was curious to see the effect of the money and the cigar on the old man, who, with a smile that was childlike and bland, said: "Oh, me see. You like look see how China boy shoe be mended."

"Yes, that is it," returned the writer. "You mend shoes, don't you?"

"Oh, yes, me mend shoe," he said with a grin. "Before me mend shoe, you see, me like you to go away. Now me know, you stop and see."

"All right, I'll watch you mend a shoe, and then I won't bother you any more."

"No trouble," said Sing, and he reached for a pile of shoes that lay in a heap on the floor at the foot of the bunk. Picking out one on which the sole had been worn away, he proceeded to rip off a portion of the old felt, and, getting a smooth surface at last, he pulled a big sheet of thick felt from a drawer and proceeded, after the fashion of a Yankee cobbler, to cut a new sole. This done, he fitted it upon the sabot, and then taking an awl, through the handle of which a shoe was run, he placed the point on the surface of the felt, the shoe being held firmly between his knees. Then, taking the thong in both hands, he gave it a peculiar twist and the awl went through the new felt and the old sole that remained on the shoe.

Repeating this operation several times, he stuck small pegs in the holes to hold the felt in position and then proceeded to bore holes in rows all over the surface of the sole of the shoe, until there were eight or ten rows of many holes each. Then the sewing commenced, and it was surprising to watch how dextrously he used the needle. When sewed on it would seem that a sole would never rip off, and, in fact, Sing said they seldom do. That part of the work finished, he took a sharp knife and pared the new sole down at the sides until it exactly fitted with the old, and then dipping a little stiff brush into something that looked like whiting he daubed it all around the edges and over the bottom, and, after rubbing it over with a cloth, the shoe was pronounced complete.

SOME FINE OPINIONS.

The writer, during the above operations, asked many questions, and, as Sing had warmed into a pleasant and communicative mood, the following very interesting information regarding shoes was gleaned:

In China, where of course the greater portion of all the shoes worn by Celestials in this country are made, there is an absence of all tanned leather, and it is for this all important reason: that the leather soled shoes are made so thick. If a thin layer of that poor leather used the shoes would wear out in no time, and as they are rather expensive from a Celestial point of view, a wearer of thin soled shoes would have a heavy bill for foot wear to pay. It is for the same reason that the uppers of all the shoes are made of cloth, for there is very little of the thin, ornamental leather in the country, and as the Chinese are not very progressive they would never think of importing from a foreign article so as to make their shoes more durable.

Of the cloth tops there are many varieties, although by far the greater percentage of Chinamen wear those of black silk or cotton, ornamented with embroideries of different sorts. The designs upon them take many forms, and some of the more elaborate and elaborate cost as high as $12 or $15 a pair, while those worn by the rich mandarins in China are even more expensive than that. An ordinary pair of shoes, however, can be purchased for about $3, and it is only the well-to-do merchants or laundries men or the Celestial dukes who buy the more expensive sorts.

Chinese dukes, by the way, often wear shoes the uppers of which are made of blue, purple or red satin or silk embroidered with some other contrasting color, but these, as a rule, are sent to them direct from China, where some sweetheart or living almoner of wife has worked on them for many days, so that her absent lord may cut a dash among the wealth of Chinatown.

The shoes with felt soles are much more popular than the other, and it is thought by the wearers of them that they last longer and look better than those made of leather. The soles are also easier to walk on, and this is a great point in their favor.

The Tartar ladies, who do not follow the custom of Chinese ladies of rank in cramping their feet, wear the same sort of shoes as the men, but the soles are made thicker.

The only reason Sing could give why the soles of the shoes were sewed all the way across was that if the felt or leather used was sewed only around the edge it would warp out of all reasonable shape on the first wearing.

There are also Chinese slippers that are quite a novelty in their way and very cheap. They are made of either woven straw or bamboo, with flat soles, no heels or counters, and resemble what are known in New England as sheepskins. In the front, beneath the woven leather, are placed strips of different colored paper which have quite a good effect.

Boston Globe.

A $4,100 DWELLING.

Designed by Mrs. E. H. Gibson, the Well Known Architect.

The floor plan given here has a side hall. When the little boys and girls come home from school they may come in this way; that is the idea of the owner. They can hang their wraps in the closet or take them off upstairs. The front hall is floored with hard wood. Part of it is covered with rug. Several little feet crossing over this floor would make it necessary for some one to wash it after every such performance, hence the side entrance. The front hall is rather large. It is a splendid room in its way.

VIEW.

The stairway is rich; there is a beautiful mantel in it. The stairway shows up nicely from the front and projects into the side. This plan is capable of being contracted into a much smaller house. The rooms are large, and altogether it is on quite an extensive scale. It has been built several times smaller and at a much less cost. From the large hall one can go into the parlor, sitting room and dining room.

The pantry, china closet and kitchen are as conveniently fitted as the experience of those interested would suggest. The kitchens and pantries of the plans which have appeared from time to time have been fully described. The idea in all is the same. The requirements are not different in an expensive house than in one less expensive. Labor saving devices are even more necessary in a cheaper house than in one which is more expensive, though it usually happens that the owners of more expensive buildings are better prepared to equip themselves with a complete arrangement than those who have to do with the more modern structures.

The idea in all these kitchen plans is that it and its annexes of china closet and kitchen pantry form the workrooms of the house, and as such should be treated from a labor saving standpoint. The saving of one step in the performance of a single operation will save a hundred when the performance of this operation is multiplied by this number. In every

It is said, if the reader be sentimental or diverting, if he or she be callous to the exquisite emotions of the tender correspondents, to hear from "Rosa Blush" that time will not change her love, and that the fragrance of it "remains as of a sweet odor, and as the breath of life," or that "Violent" intends to meet her "ever loving Gaiety at the dear old home when the clock strikes ten." But there are sterner romances than these, of which glimpses are frequently obtained among the small type announcements which are so frequently skipped by the reader. The romance of the fortune hunter is there, and many of the misdeeds of daring criminals are exposed to the views of readers of "ads" by the police announcements.

The reading of advertisements more so than the perusal of any other part of the newspaper draws one into the busy marts of life, jostles one against the crowd, touches one with pity or repels one with greed; brings one into sharp contact with sharp men, who are conspiring in some deep plot to betray, deceive or defraud some trusting person; and shows one love, misery, ambition and despair in all their phases, supplying one with the keynote to a hundred dramatic situations. If one is interested in the world of inventions, it is in the advertising column that the earliest knowledge is obtainable of the most recent device, from the latest improvement of a domestic or culinary utensil to so remarkable an invention as that recently announced for the especial benefit of yachtsmen, namely, "aerial yacht," ship formed, navigable balloons, propulsion and steering perfect, powerful and facile, capable of accommodating from two to twenty persons.

The column for "houses and apartments" shows a rise and fall of fortune, a bringing together or separation of friends—perhaps families—may be lovers. No end of romance may attach to a lost umbrella, and the steps necessary for its restoration. An auction sale announcement may be significant of the dissolution of some old family, or the downfall of a great man. The "wanted situations" column is full of pathetic stories, curiously narrated—three lines of passion, struggle, despair, heroism and long suffering. The advertisements of silks and lace, rare flowers and costly jewels, tell of gayety and wealth.

The announcements of the toy shops and confectioners are full of childish recollection and enjoyment; and the lawyers' welcome notices of something to one's advantage, "if this should meet the eye," suggest many a pleasant theme of patient waiting and cheerful endurance being at length rewarded by a kindly request. The nature of legacies, too, as disclosed by tell tale "ads," is an interesting field for observation, and one cannot help smiling at the endeavors of a legatee to smile of such inheritances as old family heirlooms, precious to the testator, but despised by the disappointed heir.

To the humane the advertising columns offer many inducements for perusal. How pleasant for them to turn from the police court records of brutality to dumb animals to the distressed prayers of bearded masters and mistresses who have lost some feline or canine pet, and to read, for instance: "Two pounds reward. Strayed from No. — Prince of Wales terrace, a white Pomeranian dog, old and nearly blind; the hair on the back of his neck worn away." Almost every announcement discloses some view of human nature or awakens a material interest.

It is pretty safe to say that in the advertisements of one issue of a London daily there is more exciting mystery than in a novel by Wilkie Collins. Take the following: "Between September to middle November, 1888. Lady about 80, gentleman, 98, launched out nearly every day, except Sunday; food, probably fish and fowl; drink, red wine or champagne. Real information rewarded. For interview address," etc. To people weary of chess problems or business plans, what a fine exercise for the ingenuity is provided by such an announcement, and the motive for which such curious information is desired.—London Standard.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

STUDY OF NEWSPAPER "ADS."

Where to Look for Romance, Misery, Prosperity, Ambition, Etc.

It is a time honored practice with the professional humorist to raise the necessary laugh by twitting women over the news columns of the daily journals. Give one of these a paper, they say, and she will immediately rivet her attention on the advertisements. Granting for the sake of argument, that there is a substratum of truth in this quip, it yet remains debatable ground whether or not she does not show a superior wisdom to those who give priority of perusal to the cablegrams, the law reports, the parliamentary debates, the political speeches of the leaders.

Advertisements, properly prospected, pan out richly in all the qualifications necessary for entertaining reading—in instruction, in romance, in pathos, in freshness of ideas and in humor, which being frequently unintentional, is by no means less amusing on that account. In deed, many of the comic papers contain testimony to the fact that their composers have discovered gold mines in the mass of wants—sometimes curious necessities curiously expressed—which are daily set forth in their apportioned space in the journals of the country. The agony column is notoriously worth watching, but the mysterious messages conveyed through that medium do not by any means monopolize all the romance of the advertisements nor all the humor.

It is said, if the reader be sentimental or diverting, if he or she be callous to the exquisite emotions of the tender correspondents, to hear from "Rosa Blush" that time will not change her love, and that the fragrance of it "remains as of a sweet odor, and as the breath of life," or that "Violent" intends to meet her "ever loving Gaiety at the dear old home when the clock strikes ten." But there are sterner romances than these, of which glimpses are frequently obtained among the small type announcements which are so frequently skipped by the reader. The romance of the fortune hunter is there, and many of the misdeeds of daring criminals are exposed to the views of readers of "ads" by the police announcements.

The reading of advertisements more so than the perusal of any other part of the newspaper draws one into the busy marts of life, jostles one against the crowd, touches one with pity or repels one with greed; brings one into sharp contact with sharp men, who are conspiring in some deep plot to betray, deceive or defraud some trusting person; and shows one love, misery, ambition and despair in all their phases, supplying one with the keynote to a hundred dramatic situations. If one is interested in the world of inventions, it is in the advertising column that the earliest knowledge is obtainable of the most recent device, from the latest improvement of a domestic or culinary utensil to so remarkable an invention as that recently announced for the especial benefit of yachtsmen, namely, "aerial yacht," ship formed, navigable balloons, propulsion and steering perfect, powerful and facile, capable of accommodating from two to twenty persons.

The column for "houses and apartments" shows a rise and fall of fortune, a bringing together or separation of friends—perhaps families—may be lovers. No end of romance may attach to a lost umbrella, and the steps necessary for its restoration. An auction sale announcement may be significant of the dissolution of some old family, or the downfall of a great man. The "wanted situations" column is full of pathetic stories, curiously narrated—three lines of passion, struggle, despair, heroism and long suffering. The advertisements of silks and lace, rare flowers and costly jewels, tell of gayety and wealth.

The announcements of the toy shops and confectioners are full of childish recollection and enjoyment; and the lawyers' welcome notices of something to one's advantage, "if this should meet the eye," suggest many a pleasant theme of patient waiting and cheerful endurance being at length rewarded by a kindly request. The nature of legacies, too, as disclosed by tell tale "ads," is an interesting field for observation, and one cannot help smiling at the endeavors of a legatee to smile of such inheritances as old family heirlooms, precious to the testator, but despised by the disappointed heir.

To the humane the advertising columns offer many inducements for perusal. How pleasant for them to turn from the police court records of brutality to dumb animals to the distressed prayers of bearded masters and mistresses who have lost some feline or canine pet, and to read, for instance: "Two pounds reward. Strayed from No. — Prince of Wales terrace, a white Pomeranian dog, old and nearly blind; the hair on the back of his neck worn away." Almost every announcement discloses some view of human nature or awakens a material interest.

It is pretty safe to say that in the advertisements of one issue of a London daily there is more exciting mystery than in a novel by Wilkie Collins. Take the following: "Between September to middle November, 1888. Lady about 80, gentleman, 98, launched out nearly every day, except Sunday; food, probably fish and fowl; drink, red wine or champagne. Real information rewarded. For interview address," etc. To people weary of chess problems or business plans, what a fine exercise for the ingenuity is provided by such an announcement, and the motive for which such curious information is desired.—London Standard.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Mrs. Shindler (laughingly)—My terms for board are $7 a week.

Tramp (straightening up)—Beg pardon for troubling ye, I didn't know this was a boardin' house. I ain't hungry 'nough ter eat boardin' house vittles. Good day, mum.—New York Weekly.

Tramp—Please, mum, I ain't had no food for three days. Can you give me something to eat?

Profusion and Simplicity.

Strange fashions are not confined to our own age or country. Holinshed, the famous and amusing chronicler of the sixteenth century, comments severely upon the manners of the English of his day. He tells us that "in number of dishes and changes of meat the nobility of England (whose cooks are for the most part Frenchmen and foreigners) do most exceed; till there is no day in manner that passeth over their heads wherein they have not only beef, mutton, veal, lamb, kid, pork, coney, capon, pig, or so many of them as the season yieldeth, but also some portion of the red and fallow deer, besides variety of fish and wild fowl, and thereto sundry other delicacies wherein the sweet hand of the sea faring Forthright is not wanting, so that for a man to dine with one of them and to taste of every dish that standeth before him; is rather to yield unto a compulsion with a great deal of meat for the speedy suppression of natural health than the use of a necessary repast to satisfy himself with a competent quantity to sustain his body withal." Much the same fashion is kept up to this day, and public banquets and the sumptuous tables of the opulent abound in all that can charm the eye and tempt the palate, and, let me add, lay the foundation of long and severe illness. How strange the contrast between this reckless profusion and the simplicity of some medieval saint, whose diet was spare and plain to a degree, or of him, greater than any of the prophets, who did his glorious life work on a sparing allowance of locusts, wild honey and water.—Cornhill Magazine.

The Laugh That Rings.

A young man who is credited by his friends with being a good deal of a philosopher penned me up in a corner today and harangued me as follows:

"Did you ever study the human laugh as an index to human character? It is an infallible test, me boy. Did you ever know a man who smirked and giggled like a girl who wasn't a sneak in his heart? And, on the contrary, did you ever know a fellow who laughed squarely out with a good honest roar who wasn't the prince of good fellows?"

"A shrill laugh is indicative of deceit, and a deep chuckle proves sincerity and good nature. By this I don't mean that a man with a better voice can't laugh as though he was honest, or one with a bass voice cover his insincerity with a mere bellow. It's the ring that talks. If the laugh has no ring in it you can put the fellow down as a half hearted cuss, no matter if his laugh is loud enough to lift the roof of the Auditorium. Stand twenty men up in a row before me and do something to get them all laughing, and I'll separate the good fellows from the Miss Nancies about as quickly as you could get outside of a beefsteak after a year's famine. See?"

I said I saw, and made a successful dive for liberty.—Chicago Journal.

A Touch of Nature.

The district messenger boy cooies in for a vast amount of ridicule for his slowness and abuse for his shrewd observations and ways, but he is a pretty good lad, after all, if the following happening in New York is any criterion:

"One day on Broadway," says an observer, "I heard a boy's voice ring out above the noisy roar of the vehicles, clear and distinct, saying, 'Hold on, blind man! stop still, blind man! wait till I get to you!' Looking for the owner of the voice, I discovered a slender but agile messenger boy of 15 or 16 years, threading his way through a mass of vehicles to a spot just by the opposite curb, where a gray haired man was standing as if petrified, with a look of mild despair on his face. It needed only a glance to see that the poor man had sightless eyes; that he had become bewildered and was likely to be run over; that the quick-witted messenger boy alone of all the vast crowd had seen the dilemma and had rushed in to the assistance of the unfortunate creature. As the lad brought the blind man safely to the sidewalk I was not helped thinking that there was an expression of that one touch of nature that makes the whole world kin."—Golden Days.

The Slyness of The Crawfish.

A correspondent of The Forest and Stream writes that he recently observed a very cunning and ingenious trick of a crawfish (or crayfish) for catching flies. "Sitting on the bank of a muddy pond, or 'borrow pit,' over the surface of which many small flies were swarming about, I observed that the crawfish came to the surface near the water's edge, and, turning over on the side, the tail probably touching bottom, with claws and legs 'sprudling' about in the water, he assumed the exact semblance of dead creatures floating on the water. In a few seconds flies would alight on the apparently dead crawfish, and as soon as one got into the proper position there was a sudden and instantaneous flip, when fish and flies would disappear together under the water. In a few seconds more he would appear on the surface and go through the same maneuver, with the same result. There were, perhaps, two or three dozen of them in sight at the same time, and all industriously engaged in the fly catching game."

He Hurrah'd for the Twelfth Mass.

"Hurrah! hurrah!" shouted a veteran, as the orchestra at the sencerfest began to play a selection. "You must be quiet," said one of the ushers, rushing up to him. "Not much I mustn't," said the veteran, "not when that is played. I used to be long to that regiment, and I'll shout for the boys as long as the Almighty gives me breath."

"Your regiment. What do you mean?" asked the usher, as the crowd waited to hear the result of the disturbance. "That's what I mean," said the veteran, putting his finger on the programme. "There it is. Twelfth Mass! That's my regiment! The old Twelfth Massachusetts! We fought from Bull Run to Five Forks!"

It was only when he was convinced that it was a piece of church music that he would consent to be quiet.—Detroit Journal.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. C. J. MULLEN,

OFFICE: PERSON STREET, NEXT DOOR TO "JOURNAL" OFFICE.

HOURS: 9 to 11 A. M. and 2 to 5 P. M., Jy 20th.

THOMAS FITCH,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Room in First National Bank Building, Reno, Nevada.

O. R. LEONARD, R. E. LINDSAY,

LEONARD & LINDSAY,

ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELLORS AT LAW

RENO, NEVADA.

Will practice in all the Courts of Nevada and California.

Offices:—In Sunderland's Building.

DR. M. A. GREENLAW,

DENTIST

Rooms over Tassell's Shoe Store, in Powning

New Block, east of 1st of Virginia street. All work skillfully performed and satisfaction guaranteed.

Nitrous Oxide Gas administered for the painless extraction of teeth

Office hours from 9 A. M. until 5 P. M.

M. J. CURTIS,

ARCHITECT AND BUILD

RENO, NEVADA

Plans furnished and Estimates Given.

Residence and place of business—Corner of First and Nevada streets.

CHAS. A. JONES, RO. F. M. CLARK

CLARKE & JONES,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Room Office, Virginia St., in Powning's New Block

Building.

H. L. FISH,

NOTARY PUBLIC AND CONVEYANCE

Deeds and other papers drawn and acknowledged ments taken at reasonable rates.

Offices:—In First National Bank.

DR. H. BERGSTEIN,

PHYSICIAN, SURGEON AND ACCOUCHEUR.

Offices:—Rooms 1 and 2 South-East Block, Virginia Street, between 1st and 2nd Streets.

Residence:—On First Street, between 1st and 2nd

Streets.

DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

C. C. POWLING, Editor and Proprietor

Governor Stevenson is anxious to appoint twenty good men to represent Nevada at the Silver Convention at St. Louis. Senators Jones and Stewart, Congressman Baird, Judge T. H. Wells, Hon. Thos. Finch and Francis G. Newlands will attend, and ex-Congressman Wren will go, if possible. Nevada will be well represented if only the gentlemen named attend.

The enormous increase in the traffic of the country taxes the capacity of the railroads. Every wheel is turning and the supply of cars is not equal to the demand. This unusual rush of business is not confined to the movement of the crops to market, but extends to all departments of commercial life, and is gratifying proof of a substantial revival of trade.

Emperor William reiterates his determination to maintain the peace of Europe "by cultivating friendly relations with other powers." It is a significant fact that the Emperor is also cultivating the Reichstag for increased appropriations to strengthen the army and navy. He will purchase peace at any price.

The Speakership contest is becoming interesting. The JOURNAL wishes it could be forced to a settlement on the silver question. There are seventeen Republican silver States and ten anti-silver. The Republicans of the silver States should not vote for any candidate for Speaker who is not a warm friend of silver.

Nevada pays no attention to the moaning and creaking of the Eastern papers that constantly slur at her. Nevada is all right, and neither an object of ridicule nor charity. She will continue to remain a State, and each succeeding year prove more worthy of the honor.

The Eiffel tower came high, but the stockholders are glad they have it, as it has paid its cost, about $1,000,000, and hands some dividends beside. As it will be permanent it is very likely to prove a very handsome investment for those who backed the aspiring architect.

The new cruiser San Francisco, was launched in the rain, but as she is made of good solid American steel and iron she will not melt.

It is pretty clear now that Governor Hill has robbed Mr. Cleveland of any possible show he ever had for re-nomination.

Mr. Cleveland may favor David B. Hill in 1892, but we doubt it.

Those who can read say that Thomas B. will be the Speaker.

Dipsomaniacs, or Thirst-Madness.

The periodical desire for strong drink which sometimes besets individuals, otherwise moral and exemplary, is a species of personal mania beyond the control of the patient. It is a condition that there are thousands of cases of remittent drunkenness, which presents the specific symptoms of disease. The periodical drunkard is not an habitual drunkard. But at particular times he appears to be attacked with a thirst-madness which deprives him of the power of volition, and hurries him into the most terrible excesses. During the interval between the paroxysms, he may be a perfectly sober man.

For many weeks, or even months, he may have steadily refused to take a drop of liquor, may indeed have felt no inclination for it, but on the contrary regarded it with disgust. And yet, when the fit comes on, the raging thirst for alcohol utterly paralyzes his conscience and his will. A man in this condition is a monomaniac, and should be treated as one. If put under proper restraint at the commencement of this furor, the dipsomaniac, in nine cases out of ten, might be tided over his perversion in the course of a week, and a perseverance in the course of the recurrence of the hallucination would probably eventuate a complete cure. It is not easy to persuade the world that all drunkenness is not voluntary. The law does not recognize dipsomaniac. It treats all inebriated alike. This seems to be unjust, though it is hard to say where the line should be drawn between free will excess and that which proceeds from an uncontrollable mania.—Menford's Magazine.

Cities With Great Parks.

Twenty years ago there were but two well-advanced rural parks in America. Now there are more than twenty. London, Paris, Brussels and Liverpool have in the last twenty years more than doubled their recreation grounds. All the cities of the British Islands thirty years since possessed but four parks worthy of the name, and they now have thirty as large in acreage as Franklin Park in Boston. During the last two years New York city, which has the coolest experience of any city in the world in this direction, has purchased lands for six additional parks, to contain 3,600 acres in all, and the State Legislature has voted $12,000,000 for their purchase. Chicago has six rural parks. Baltimore paid $600,000 for Druid Hill Park, and has several smaller parks. Cincinnati Park, Philadelphia, cost $6,800,000, and the city has twenty-eight other parks. Prospect Park, Brooklyn, cost about $4,000,000. St. Louis has a number of parks, the largest of which cost about $850,000. Vienna has 8,000 acres of parks, Tokio has 6,000 acres of parks, Berlin has 5,000 acres of parks, and Dublin has 1,900 acres of parks.

The Lyon County Times has these political lyrics:

Mr. T. Finch says he is not anxious to be the Republican nominee for Congress next year, provided there is anybody else in the State who desires to fill the position. Of course this is about all Mr. Finch could be expected to say at the present time on this subject, but we infer from the tone of his remarks that later on he will be found trying to convince the people that nobody wants to be Congressman but himself.

George Cassidy says that there is a possibility of young Jimmie Blair, of California, being a candidate for the U. S. Senate from Nevada next year. He thinks that Jim, Sr., would be willing to spend a million to seat the boy in Washington, and concludes that it would not be half a bad idea, after all. In an event of this kind Cassidy would probably be the Democratic nominee for Congress again.

DESERTS HIS LEGAL WIFE

A WELL-KNOWN WESTERN CONTRACTOR IN A SIREN'S TOILS.

His Wife Discovers He is About to Obtain a Secret Divorce and Calls the Guilty Couple Down.

Special to the Journal.

New York, Oct. 26.—There has just come to light a drama in real life which combines the distinctive features of the Duss DeBarr and Fleck sensations, with a touch of tragedy. It has been slowly worked out almost to the last act, when an unexpected interruption not long ago put the principal actors to flight.

The adventures in the case is Caroline F. Wells. She was once and probably still is the lawful wife of Emmett Wells, a commission broker of this city. Her principal victim is George F. Woolston, a contractor, well known throughout the west as a builder of railroads and waterworks. She went out west as Mrs. Wells, and she has since been known as Kaeken, Warner, Whiteley, Willard, Wheeler, Martin and Woolston.

George F. Woolston is a man of great energy and dogged persistency. He constructed Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska railroads, a large section of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and portions of other lines. His income has averaged between $50,000 and $75,000 per year. Mrs. Wells and Mr. Woolston first met in the west about five years ago. After a short acquaintance she was introduced into Mr. Woolston's family as Mrs. E. A. Willard, of Boston, and he took pains to spread the report that she was a wealthy widow who wanted to invest her money in western property. The relations of the two became more and more intimate, and it became necessary for the widow to leave Mr. Woolston's house. But he continued to spend most of his time in her company in other places. Mrs. Woolston could not be blind to the situation, but her remonstrances were of no avail. Indeed, Woolston deliberately proposed that he maintain two households, treating both women alike financially. She refused to consent to such an arrangement. Finally Woolston spent almost his entire time with his mistress. They traveled all over the country, registering as man and wife.

Mrs. Woolston has unearthed a plot to secure a secret divorce and rob her of her two boys. She has obtained possession of correspondence between her husband and his mistress in which a promise of subsequent marriage is made. She one day met Woolston and his mistress face to face, and at the point of a pistol made them cry for mercy. She will not sue for a divorce, but will show up the woman who has taken away her husband.

Too Many Girls.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—Henry Miller, a shoemaker who died recently in this city, had a remarkable matrimonial career. His first wife died in giving birth to a girl baby. He afterwards married his wife's sister, who also died in the course of a year after having had born to her a girl baby. Miller was an industrious fellow, and his father-in-law, a close-fisted dairyman, brought about a marriage between Miller and a third daughter. In three years a girl baby was born and a third wife died. The father-in-law had died a year before, and the mother, who was a treble mother-in-law to Miller, and he mourned the loss of their dead together. A mutual liking struck up, the result being that mother-in-law and son-in-law Miller became husband and wife.

Their marriage was a happy one for almost three years. Then Mrs. Miller No. 4 gave birth to a girl baby, dying within 10 days. After the little one was born Miller lived but two months. His four daughters, born under such peculiar circumstances, are still living. The first three are not only step-sisters but are cousins. The fourth, the daughter of the mother-in-law, is not only a cousin and step-sister, but likewise an aunt, while the grandmother was step-mother to her own grandchildren.

North and South America Shake Hands

Special to the Journal.

OMAHA, Oct. 26.—The All-American excursionists arrived this afternoon from Sioux City. The visitors for the first time saw the North American Indian upon his native plains. The train stopped at Pender, where there was a band of Winnebago and Omaha Indians. Chief Four Walker of the Tribe indicated on shaking hands with everybody. Then the Indians formed a circle and gave an exhibition of the Indian dance.

The travelers were welcomed here by Governor Thayer and Mayor Croatch. The excursionists will rest to-morrow, leaving Monday morning for Des Moines.

A Chance for the Fool-Killer.

Special to the Journal.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 26.—The bomb that exploded at Galloway schoolhouse yesterday, by which so many school children were injured, was the result of criminal carelessness on the part of two young men, who filled a gas pipe with giant powder and allowed the children to play with it. Eighteen children were injured. Several of them are now lying in a critical condition and it is thought that four will die. The men are under arrest.

Destructive Flames.

Special to the Journal.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—The business portion of Stoneboro, Mercer county, was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $75,000.

Acquitted of Murder.

Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—A telegram from El Paso states that Oliver Emley, formerly of this city, had been tried for the murder of conductor Morath, at Jimuleo, Mexico, and acquitted, self-defense being clearly proven.

Notable Death.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Judge Arthur T. Beeve, Chief of the Seed Division of the Agricultural Department, died yesterday afternoon.

For the Baseball Honors.

Special to the Journal.

New York, Oct. 26.—In the championship series game yesterday the score was: Brooklyn 7, New York 11.

A NEVADA MAN'S NERVE.

A RULING WHICH THREATENS TO DISRUPT THE GOOD TEMPLARS.

Secretary Windom's Lead Ore Decision Criticized—Meeting the Kanakas.

Special to the Journal.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—O. A. White, who resides in Pasadena, was out riding with his wife in that city early this evening, when a masked man suddenly came out from the brush, and, covering him with a revolver, demanded his money. White offered the footpad seventy-five cents, but the latter ordered him to get down and be searched. White descended, and grasping the robber's pistol with one hand, dealt two blows with the other, which knocked him down. White secured the pistol and made the man his prisoner and turned him over to the police. The prisoner gave the name of Wm. Robinson. He was considerably battered in the struggle with his intended victim. White was formerly Chief of Police of Virginia City, Nevada.

Temperance and Stetigton.

Special to the Journal.

SEATTLE, W. T., Oct. 26.—The Good Templars in this city are engaged in a controversy which threatens to disrupt the Order, the question being a religious test of qualification for membership. In his report to the Grand Lodge of the World last Summer Mr. Thornhill the Right Worlthy Grand Chief Templar of the World, defined "The Supreme Ruler of the Universe" to be the Trinity, and by the adoption of the report this became the law of the Order. Members of the Subordinate Lodges who do not coincide in this view declare that the religious test is inconsistent with the objects of the Order, and that many Templars holding a belief different from that expressed in the report are barred out. Pacific Lodge, No. 94, of this city, at a meeting Wednesday night, ordered that all members who could not comply with the religious requirements must resign or be expelled from the Order.

Windom's Mistake.

Special to the Journal.

DENVER, Oct. 26.—In view of the fact that Colorado is the largest lead and silver producing State in the world, her citizens are considerably exercised over Secretary Windom's recent lead decision. Senator Wolcott said to-day: "The decision is an unpleasant shock and surprise to the whole mining industry of the West. Already some of the mines carrying low-grade ore and heavy in lead have closed, and others are following in suit. I saw the Secretary in Washington last month on the subject, and certainly expected a different result. Although the lobby in the interest of railroads reaching to and operating in Old Mexico is very strong, I have hopes that Congress will rectify this wrong perpetrated by the Treasury Department."

American Men-of-War at Honolulu.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—According to advices received from Honolulu to-day there are four American men-of-war stationed at that point, the Iriquois, having recently arrived from San Francisco and the Mohican from Callao. Admiral Kimberly still remains at Honolulu, and the squadron is under his immediate command. It is not known definitely how long the Admiral will remain at Honolulu, but it is reported that he will not return to San Francisco until after the coming elections in Hawaii.

The Corporation Wins.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Secretary Noble, in a decision rendered to-day, denies the motion of A. F. Bright and T. T. Nicholson for a review of the Departmental decision of March 15, 1889, in the case of Bright & Nicholson against the Elkhorn Mining Co., in which is involved a valuable mineral entry made by said company for A. M. Holter, Lodi. The claim is located near Elkhorn, Montana. The former decision of the Department sustaining the entry is adhered to.

A Subterranean River.

Special to the Journal.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—A subterranean river has just been discovered in the Department of Lot, France. The discoverers worked their way down stream for a couple of miles through a succession of wonderful grottoes sparkling with stalactites. They found seven lakes on their way and had to shoot seven cascades or rapids.

John Chinaman Still Keeps up His Devilish Work.

Special to the Journal.

BUFFALO, Oct. 26.—Ching Lee, the keeper of an opium joint, was arrested to-day for enticing children into his den for immoral purposes. Eight girls of about 13 years are implicated. There will be other arrests.

Execution Postponed.

Special to the Journal.

PORTLAND, Oct. 26.—Sandy Oide, sentenced to be hanged next Friday, for the murder of Emil Weber, has been granted by the Supreme Court to-day a stay of execution until an appeal can be heard.

Bad for Stanley.

Special to the Journal.

BREXIN, Oct. 26.—The steamer Vulcan, attached to Wiseman's expedition, has been wrecked on the East African coast and a number of the crew killed by the natives.

LIKELY THAT THE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS WILL BE SUPERSEDED.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—The Senate will be reorganized just before time for it to convene in December. The only question about its result is as to whether the present sergeant-at-arms and some other high officers will be superseded by new men.

The introduction of eight new Senators from the four new States will make the reorganization quite interesting and will bring about an almost complete rearrangement of office holders. Many of the old men who have been holding inferior positions will undoubtedly be asked to give way to new men. The new Senators may be given their share of the patronage. It is understood that the present sergeant-at-arms is calculating to give to each of the new Republican Senators one position worth $1,200 to $1,500 a year. This the new Senators will not consent to, as there are many of the old Senators who are given patronage under the sergeant-at-arms and under the secretary of the Senate aggregating away up in the thousands, some of them having twice as much patronage as their own salaries aggregate. The demands of the new Senators will undoubtedly cause a great deal of chagrin and very rightly will dispose of a number of barnacles who have been bobbing along on the old ship of State for a good many years. The general impression is that a new sergeant-at-arms will be elected, although Colonel Canaday, the present officer, has many friends, and a number of them will demand his retention.

The mere fact that a Senator has served long terms of years does not license him to demand the lion's share of patronage. All should be treated alike, they say. The new Senators will demand that the fact that all of the old Senators have chairmanships shall be considered in connection with the distribution of patronage.

The difficulty that Sergeant-at-Arms Canaday will have on his hands will in a large degree be experienced by Secretary McCook. This officer seems to have divided the patronage to suit his own personal wishes, and there are Senators who have no representation under him.

The organization of the Senate and the incoming of the eight new Senators will make quite a change in the operations of that body. At the special session of the Senate after the 4th of March there were thirty-seven Democratic and thirty-nine Republican. When Congress meets in December the Republicans will have at least forty-five Senators. It is not yet certain which party will get the two Senators from Montana. If they go to the Democrats the Senate will stand forty-five Republicans to thirty-nine Democrats. Other wise the Republicans will have forty-seven and the Democrats thirty-seven.

With the West Virginia cases in their present condition the House, without the members from the new States, has 164 Republicans and 161 Democrats. The five Representatives from the new States add that much to the Republican majority, giving them 169 members, which is only two more than a quorum. Thus it will be an easy matter for the Democrats to demand a quorum on every vote, and it will make legislation on partisan subjects a very difficult and almost impossible accomplishment.

Bloody Fight With Outlaws in Missouri.

Special to the Journal.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—Sheriff Morris of Blount county, with a posse, cornered Babe Burrows, the outlaw, and his gang, near Ouseau, last evening. A desperate fight ensued. Deputy Sheriff Aidenon and outis Penn Woodward of the Sheriff's posse, were killed. Burrows escaped to a swamp, where he is surrounded.

Oil Goes Up.

Special to the Journal.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—On the Petroleum Exchange to-day oil reached the highest price since June 10, 1885, and as it advanced point by point the bulls made the Exchange ring. The highest reached to-day was $1 07 1/2. The lowest this week was 98 1/2 cts., making the range for the month nine cents. The market fell again this afternoon, and finally closed at $1 06.

Tascoot Found Again.

Special to the Journal.

DENVER, Oct. 26.—A person believed to be a man masquerading in woman's attire has been discovered at Berthoud village, fifty miles from here, and resembles Tascoot, the Chicago murderer, to such an extent that the Chicago authorities have been communicated with.

General Hyppolite inaugurated President of Hayti.

Special to the Journal.

New York, Oct. 26.—The steamship Prince Wilhelm brings advices from Port au Prince to October 19. General Hyppolite was inaugurated President on the 18th instant with great pomp.

Execution Postponed.

Special to the Journal.

PORTLAND, Oct. 26.—Sandy Oide, sentenced to be hanged next Friday, for the murder of Emil Weber, has been granted by the Supreme Court to-day a stay of execution until an appeal can be heard.

Bad for Stanley.

Special to the Journal.

BREXIN, Oct. 26.—The steamer Vulcan, attached to Wiseman's expedition, has been wrecked on the East African coast and a number of the crew killed by the natives.

A KICK ABOUT CANADAY

LIKELY THAT THE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS WILL BE SUPERSEDED.

Reorganizing the Senate—The Eight New Members Making Themselves Felt.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—The Senate will be reorganized just before time for it to convene in December. The only question about its result is as to whether the present sergeant-at-arms and some other high officers will be superseded by new men.

The introduction of eight new Senators from the four new States will make the reorganization quite interesting and will bring about an almost complete rearrangement of office holders. Many of the old men who have been holding inferior positions will undoubtedly be asked to give way to new men. The new Senators may be given their share of the patronage. It is understood that the present sergeant-at-arms is calculating to give to each of the new Republican Senators one position worth $1,200 to $1,500 a year. This the new Senators will not consent to, as there are many of the old Senators who are given patronage under the sergeant-at-arms and under the secretary of the Senate aggregating away up in the thousands, some of them having twice as much patronage as their own salaries aggregate. The demands of the new Senators will undoubtedly cause a great deal of chagrin and very rightly will dispose of a number of barnacles who have been bobbing along on the old ship of State for a good many years. The general impression is that a new sergeant-at-arms will be elected, although Colonel Canaday, the present officer, has many friends, and a number of them will demand his retention.

The mere fact that a Senator has served long terms of years does not license him to demand the lion's share of patronage. All should be treated alike, they say. The new Senators will demand that the fact that all of the old Senators have chairmanships shall be considered in connection with the distribution of patronage.

The difficulty that Sergeant-at-Arms Canaday will have on his hands will in a large degree be experienced by Secretary McCook. This officer seems to have divided the patronage to suit his own personal wishes, and there are Senators who have no representation under him.

The organization of the Senate and the incoming of the eight new Senators will make quite a change in the operations of that body. At the special session of the Senate after the 4th of March there were thirty-seven Democratic and thirty-nine Republican. When Congress meets in December the Republicans will have at least forty-five Senators. It is not yet certain which party will get the two Senators from Montana. If they go to the Democrats the Senate will stand forty-five Republicans to thirty-nine Democrats. Other wise the Republicans will have forty-seven and the Democrats thirty-seven.

With the West Virginia cases in their present condition the House, without the members from the new States, has 164 Republicans and 161 Democrats. The five Representatives from the new States add that much to the Republican majority, giving them 169 members, which is only two more than a quorum. Thus it will be an easy matter for the Democrats to demand a quorum on every vote, and it will make legislation on partisan subjects a very difficult and almost impossible accomplishment.

Bloody Fight With Outlaws in Missouri.

Special to the Journal.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—Sheriff Morris of Blount county, with a posse, cornered Babe Burrows, the outlaw, and his gang, near Ouseau, last evening. A desperate fight ensued. Deputy Sheriff Aidenon and outis Penn Woodward of the Sheriff's posse, were killed. Burrows escaped to a swamp, where he is surrounded.

Oil Goes Up.

Special to the Journal.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—On the Petroleum Exchange to-day oil reached the highest price since June 10, 1885, and as it advanced point by point the bulls made the Exchange ring. The highest reached to-day was $1 07 1/2. The lowest this week was 98 1/2 cts., making the range for the month nine cents. The market fell again this afternoon, and finally closed at $1 06.

Tascoot Found Again.

Special to the Journal.

DENVER, Oct. 26.—A person believed to be a man masquerading in woman's attire has been discovered at Berthoud village, fifty miles from here, and resembles Tascoot, the Chicago murderer, to such an extent that the Chicago authorities have been communicated with.

General Hyppolite inaugurated President of Hayti.

Special to the Journal.

New York, Oct. 26.—The steamship Prince Wilhelm brings advices from Port au Prince to October 19. General Hyppolite was inaugurated President on the 18th instant with great pomp.

Execution Postponed.

Special to the Journal.

PORTLAND, Oct. 26.—Sandy Oide, sentenced to be hanged next Friday, for the murder of Emil Weber, has been granted by the Supreme Court to-day a stay of execution until an appeal can be heard.

Bad for Stanley.

Special to the Journal.

BREXIN, Oct. 26.—The steamer Vulcan, attached to Wiseman's expedition, has been wrecked on the East African coast and a number of the crew killed by the natives.

A MURDEROUS SAILOR

TAKES A SHOT AT THE BRITISH CONSUL AND VICE CONSUL IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Latest News From the Samoan Islands—The Honolulu Bioters on Trial.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—James Finch, a British Seaman, made an assault with a revolver on British Consul Dupoche and Acting Vice-Consul Moore in the Consul's office this afternoon.

The cartridge did not explode, when Finch pointed the weapon at Moore, and Finch turned the weapon on the Consul. The bullet passed through the stovepipe in the office and was out in two on a piece of iron within a short distance of the Consul's head.

Finch was arrested. He was formerly boatswain of the British ship Amazon, but was discharged by Capt. McLean because he was too ill to accompany the vessel when it left this port for Hull, England, on the 13th.

Finch claims there was some money due him, and has frequently visited the Consul to press his demands. He was told to-day that the money had been sent on to London, as he had failed to comply with certain rules, and this led to the shooting.

Samoan Affairs.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Commander E. T. Woodward, of the United States steamer Adams, arrived from Apia to-day on the Mariposa, having returned here on account of illness. Although advices from Apia received by the Mariposa state that 100 of Matafafa's followers had left Apia for Savaii, and that a conflict between those forces and those of Tamassee might follow, no news of a battle having been fought on the island of Savaii had been received in Apia at the time the Mariposa left the group, on the 12th instant. Commodore Woodward disordered the cable dispatch received from Sydney that a battle had occurred between two native forces at Samoa. He does not know of any of Matafafa's followers having gone to Savaii and says there were no indications of trouble at the time he left Apia.

The trial of the men who engaged in the recent rebellion at Honolulu has been in progress for some time. The hearing of but two cases has been completed, being those of a Belgian named Loomens and a Chinaman. Both were found guilty. Robert Wilcox, the leader of the insurgents, who has not yet been tried, was the principal witness for the defense. He claimed that he and his men were not engaged in a rebellion, but in an effort to protect King Kalakaua.

A Statue for the Catholic University.

Special to the Journal.

New York, Oct. 26.—Archbishop Corrigan has informed the Rector of the Catholic University of America, that Mr. V. Loubat, of New York, has ordered a colossal statue of Leo XIII. to be executed in Carrara marble by one of the leading sculptors of Italy, and will present it to the University next October.

Fatally Wounded.

Special to the Journal.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., Oct. 26.—At Farmington this morning a young man named Russell, son of an old pioneer of Walla Walla, shot and fatally wounded David Canty, in the Palace Saloon. Russell was under the influence of liquor at the time.

Nothing in It.

Special to the Journal.

BUFFALO, Oct. 26.—Col. D. S. Alexander says there is no truth in the statement that Halford has resigned or that he has accepted a private secretaryship under Harrison.

NEW TO-DAY.

Special to the Journal.

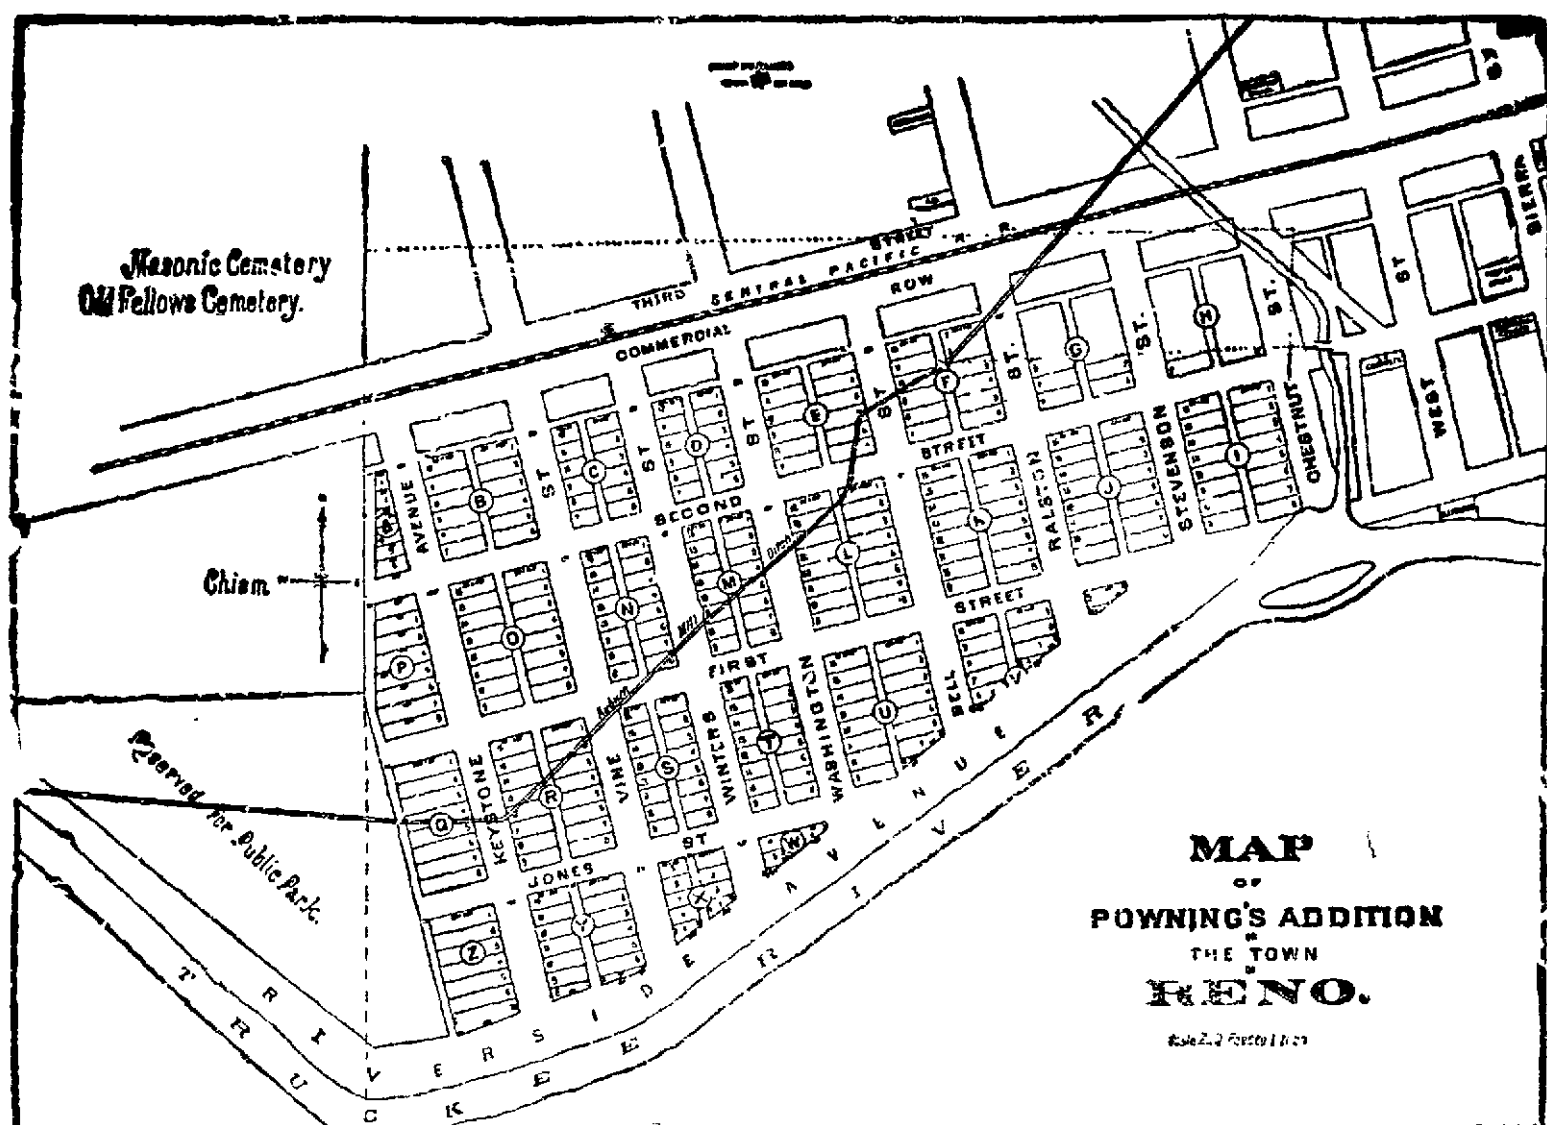

M'KISSICK'S OPERA HOUSE.

JOHN PIPER.....Lasso.

ONE NIGHT ONLY!

Thursday Evening, October 31 '89!

SPECIAL ENGAGEMENT OF 250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO!

Is the Railroad Center of Nevada.

RENO!

Is the Educational Center of Nevada.

RENO!

Is the Healthiest Town in Nevada

RENO!

Is Great, and Alfalfa is King!

The Safest Investment

IN THE STATE

RENO PROPERTY

Is the Cheapest on the Coast in comparison with that of other cities.

RENO

Has no equal in Nevada or California for salubrity of climate, wealth of soil, diversity of products and stability. Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools. The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.

RENO!

Has 5,000 Population and is Growing Rapidly.

The Loveliest Town!

The Cleanest Town.

The Wealthiest Town!

The Healthiest Town!

RENO

Is Supported by the Richest Farming Country of Nevada, Northern California and Southern Oregon.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno. Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

SUPERIOR EDUCATION AT HOME.

State University of Nevada,

LOCATED AT RENO.

OFFERS EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITIES TO YOUNG Men and Young Women who desire to obtain a good education. This institution, being a part of the Public School System of the State TUITION IS FREE to all residents of Nevada.

Five Schools, or Departments, Have Been Organized at the University:

1. The School of Mines and Mining Engineering.
2. The School of Agriculture.
3. The Normal School.
4. The Business Department.
5. The Academic Department.

THE SCHOOL OF MINES AND MINING ENGINEERING includes a thorough course of study in Mathematics, Natural Science and the English Language. Graduates of this School will receive the degree of Mining Engineer.

THE SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE includes the fundamental branches of mathematical natural science, the English language and observation and experiments connected with the farm and garden. Students in this school will be given an opportunity to defray a portion of their expenses by working on the University farm.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL includes the studies pursued in the Elementary and High Schools of Nevada, the history of education and the theory and practice of teaching. Graduates of the Normal School will receive certificates valid in any Public School of the State.

THE BUSINESS DEPARTMENT includes the study of Arithmetic, Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Business Forms and the English Language.

THE ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT includes English, Latin, Mathematics and Natural Science. Graduates of this Department will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The University is equipped with a Library, Geological Cabinet and Physical and Chemical Laboratories. First-class facilities for Assaying will soon be provided.

Practice in reading, singing, declaiming, essay writing and public speaking is afforded by rhetorical exercises, conducted by the Professors and by the literary societies of the University.

Room rent and good board in respectable families can be had for less than $25 per month.

For further information address

LEROY D. BROWN, President University.
Reno, Nevada

RICHARD HERZ,
RENO, NEVADA.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION PAID TO—
Engraving and Watch Repairing
STANDARD TIME TAKEN BY TRANSIT

UNION SALOON.
NORTHWEST CORNER OF VIRGINIA AND Second Streets.
RENO.
CHASE & CHURCH, Proprietors.
The best quality of
WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.
Fine Billiard and Pool Tables attached for the accommodation of guests.
Moore's Brands of Whisky a Specialty.
Call and See Us

THE PALACE
—IS—
RENO'S LEADING HOTEL
—IT HAS—
Light Sunny Rooms,
Restaurant Attached,
Fine Billiard Parlor.

EVERY ATTENTION PAID TO GUESTS. Polite and accommodating attendants in every department. The house is first-class throughout. In open day and night, and every attention is shown to travelers.
AL. WHITE.

HODCKINSON,
DRUGGIST!

SPONGES, CHAMOISE SKINS,
TOILET SOAP,

Patent Medicines, and

FINE CIGARS

Virginia street, Reno.

WOOD FOR SALE.

MAHOGANY, OAK OR PINE WOOD

DELIVERED PROMPTLY.

By Leaving Orders with J. M. FULFON,
N. & C. R. Depot

NOTICE.

THE COLLECTOR OF THE RENO Water Company has been instructed to enforce the rules and regulations of the company by order of the President.
R. E. JOHNSON, President.

THE CALIFORNIA POWDER WORKS,

230 California Street,

SAN FRANCISCO.

Manufacture and have constantly on hand

SPORTING,

MINING,

and BLASTING

POWDER,

A superior quality, fresh from the mills. It is being constantly received and transported into the interior, is delivered to the consumer within a few days of the time of its manufacture, and is in every way

Superior to Any Other Powder

In the market. We have been awarded successively

Three Gold Medals!

At the MECHANICAL INSTITUTE and the State Agricultural Society for the superiority of our products over all others. We call attention to our

Hercules Powder,

Which combines all the force of other strong explosives now in use, and the lifting force of the very

BEST BLASTING POWDER.

Thus making it vastly superior to any other compound now in use

Circular containing a full description of this Powder can be obtained on application at the office of any of our agents

JOHN F. LOHME, Sec'y.

TEHAMA COUNTY,

10,378 27-100 Acres.

Township 25 N, Range 7 W, Mt. Diablo Meridian.

This township lies on the eastern slope of the Coast Range of mountains, and from 13 to 20 miles west from Astoria, the county seat of Clatsop County. The held notes of the U. S. Surveyor who laid out this township, says: "This township is well adapted for grazing, as it affords pasturage for large herds of cattle. It is well watered by the various tributaries of Elder Creek. It is also very valuable for its timber, which consists of a heavy growth of yellow and sugar pine, spruce, and cedar. There is a heavy undergrowth of chaparral, chemical and manzanita." The even sections are in most instances government land, so that the parts most valuable to this range might easily be secured at government price, namely $2.50 per acre for single quarter sections.

In Section 9, coal was discovered recently by some miners, but nothing has been done to develop the mine, although samples which have been tested show the coal to be of excellent quality.

We are assured that a Railroad leading for the Coast, and running through the Coast Range time, will be built very near this range. Price for the whole, consisting of 10,378 27-100 acres will be $25,000.

TERMS—One-third cash, and balance in two equal yearly payments. Apply to GREENWOOD & D. WOLF, Owners, No. 415 Montgomery Street, S. F. Or at Jones' Office, Reno, Nevada.

MISCELLANEOUS.

DELINQUENT NOTICE.

RENO ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY, Local Agent of principal place of business, Reno, Nevada, location of works Reno, Nevada.

Notice—There is delinquent upon the following described stock on account of assessment No. 411 (6), levied on the third day of September, 1889, the several amounts set opposite the names of the respective shareholders as follows:

No. Cert.	No. shares.	Am't.
Lube, W. J.	101	$15.00
Lube, W. J.	102	15.00
Peck, S. M.	103	15.00
Peck, S. M.	104	15.00
Peck, S. M.	105	15.00
Tolson, L. D.	106	30.00
Tolson, L. D.	107	30.00
Holt, F. S.	108	15.00
Holt, F. S.	109	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	110	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	111	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	112	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	113	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	114	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	115	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	116	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	117	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	118	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	119	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	120	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	121	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	122	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	123	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	124	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	125	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	126	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	127	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	128	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	129	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	130	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	131	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	132	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	133	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	134	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	135	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	136	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	137	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	138	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	139	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	140	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	141	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	142	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	143	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	144	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	145	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	146	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	147	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	148	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	149	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	150	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	151	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	152	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	153	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	154	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	155	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	156	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	157	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	158	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	159	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	160	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	161	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	162	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	163	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	164	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	165	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	166	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	167	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	168	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	169	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	170	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	171	15.00
Taylor, R. H.	172	15.00

And in accordance with the law an order of the Board of Trustees made on the 3d day of September, 1889, so many shares of said stock, or each parcel thereof, as may be necessary will be sold at public auction at the office of the company, room 2, over First National Bank, Reno, Nevada, on the 30th day of October, 1889, at 10 o'clock P. M. of that day, to pay said delinquent assessments, costs of advertising and expenses of sale.

PIERCE EVANS, Secretary.
Reno, Oct. 1, 1889.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, California: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced by and against you as defendant, Kestis H. Chapin as plaintiff in the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover judgment and decree of Court annulling the marriage heretofore and now existing between you and said plaintiff, on the ground of willful failure and neglect on your part to provide for plaintiff the common necessities of life, having the ability and means on your part so to do.

Further ground of extreme cruelty on your part towards said plaintiff, and now existing between you and said plaintiff, and the custody and control of the minor children of your said wife, and in all of which will fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county, and to which you are especially referred.

And you are further notified, that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded, and for costs.

In testimony whereof, I, T. V. Julien, Clerk, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, this 19th day of July, A. D. 1889.
T. V. JULIEN,
Clerk of the District Court of the State of Nevada, By W. L. Knox, Deputy.

LAND NOTICE.

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, December 12, 1889.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT IN COMPLIANCE with the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An Act for the sale of timber lands in the State of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," J. P. Foulis, of Verdi, county of Washoe, State of Nevada, has this day filed in the office of the U. S. Land Office at Reno, Nevada, a statement, No. 1017, for the purchase of the W 1/4 of NE 1/4 and NW 1/4 of SE 1/4 and SW 1/4 of Section 2, in Township 25 N, Range 7 W, Mt. Diablo Meridian, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Sacramento City, Cal., on the 15th day of December, 1889.

He names as witnesses: R. R. Dorn, of Sacramento City, Cal.; J. H. Roberts, of Sacramento City, Cal.; and J. H. Roberts, of Sacramento City, Cal. Any and all persons claiming an estate in the above described lands are required to file their claim in this office on or before said 15th day of December, 1889.

W. L. KNOX, Register.

AN ORDINANCE

(No. 3)

Of the Town of Reno, Washoe County, Nevada.

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE driving of Cattle on certain streets of the town of Reno.

The Board of County Commissioners of Washoe County, State of Nevada, do ordain as follows: Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to drive any herd or band of cattle on or through any part of Virginia street south of Commercial street, or on or through South Virginia street, or Virginia avenue north of where it intersects with California avenue, or on Mill, State, Rock or Willow streets west of their intersection with the above street, in said town of Reno.

Sec. 2. That any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for a term of not less than ten days nor more than thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment. T. K. HYNES, Chairman.

T. V. JULIEN, Clerk.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF ROBERT A. BRANTON, deceased.—To the creditors of said estate: Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Robert A. Branton, deceased, or his estate, is hereby given that summary administration of said estate has been ordered by the Court, and all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased must present them to the Administrator, with the necessary vouchers, within thirty days from the date hereof, at the office of W. L. Boardman, Esq., or the same will be forever barred. JOHN R. BRANTON, Administrator.

Reno, Oct. 21st, 1889.

NOTICE.

OFFICE EX-OFFICIO TAX RE-ceiver Washoe county, Nevada, Reno, Oct. 21, 1889.—Notice is hereby given that the assessment roll for the year A. D. 1889 has been placed in my hands by the County Auditor, and that the State, county and special taxes are now due and payable, and that the law in regard to their collection will be strictly enforced.

Taxes will be received until the close of official business on the third Monday (18th day) of November, 1889, at the County Auditor's office, in the Court House, at Reno, Nevada. D. B. BOYD, County Treasurer and Ex-Officio Tax Receiver.

I. O. O. F.

RENO LODGE, No. 10, I. O. O. F., meets at their hall on Commercial street, over the Congregational Church, Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock. Visiting members in good standing are cordially invited to attend.

J. P. PHILLIPS, N. G.

A. BACKUS, Secretary.

I. O. O. F.

TRUCE LODGE, No. 14, I. O. O. F., meets at their hall on Commercial street, near the Golden Eagle Hotel, Reno, Nevada, every Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Visiting members in good standing are cordially invited to attend.

S. JACOBS, N. G.

N. A. BERNER, Secretary.

Reno Chapter, No. 7, R. A. M.

THE Stated Convocation of Reno Chapter, No. 7, R. A. M., are held in Masonic Hall on the evening of the first Thursday in each month, commencing at 7 o'clock sharp. Visiting members in good standing are cordially invited to attend. By order of the U. S. F. C. Secretary.

J. L. PHILLIPS, Secretary.